TERMS OF SALE

All coins and bills guaranteed genuine.

New bidders or customers sending in bids for the first time must positively give first class reference, bank reference preferably, or else send a deposit of at least 25% of the total amount of bids. Otherwise, their bids will not be accepted; application of such deposit will be made upon successful bids; the seller reserves the right to demand payment upon successful bids before delivery in his sole discretion. To those known to me who have established credit, a reference or deposit is not necessary and purchases will be sent out promptly after the sale. In appreciation of this courtesy the purchaser remits promptly.

No unlimited bids will be accepted on any of the lots in this sale. Please state the highest figure you are willing to pay for each item in which you are interested. Your bid will then be executed as much below your limit as other actual bids permit. We often buy coins for less than half to one-fourth of a collector's actual bid limit. We will do our best for you.

The terms are prompt cash settlement after sale, and no time given. Collectors who are not certain that they can pay promptly are asked not to bid. The coins in the sale are the property of my clients, and I must make prompt settlement for them.

Remit by money order, draft, check, or in any way most convenient. Stamps accepted for accounts that are below one dollar only.

Coins will be bought below your bids where other offers permit, as this is competitive bidding, executed in good faith.

The usual charge of 5% will be made for executing your bids, and for packing and sending out material. No charge made on anything not actually purchased. Postage and express is paid by the purchaser.

Receipted bills are not sent out after your remittance as this is unnecessary. Your check, draft or money order itself is a receipt. However, if a 3-cent stamp is enclosed we will send receipt.

Be certain that you bid on the lot you wish to buy. We will correct errors and adjust claims, but you should not expect us to pay for your mistakes. Be careful in making your bids. Be sure that you bid on the lot you wish to buy, and at so much per piece.

Bids must reach me by the morning of the sale. Mail them in time so as to avoid disappointment. At each sale some bids arrive too late to be executed.

All bids are entered as received and lots distributed to the highest bidder without reserve. When two or more bids are the same, and there are no higher bids, the first received gets the lot.

Between the seller and buyer, my position is describing the condition of coins and bills has been neutral. My classifications are generally considered to be conservative, by the collecting public.

It is easy to bid by mail. If you do not know how much to bid on any items, write me giving numbers in catalog and I shall be glad to inform you as to values. It is useless and a waste of time to make low bids that have no chance of success. I sincerely hope that each collector acquires some nice lots from this sale that give him a real thrill and joy of satisfaction.

Please bid by the piece unless stated to bid for the lot. Thus, if there are 12 pieces in a lot and you wish to pay $6 for the lot, then bid 50c. At each sale someone bids by the lot. Don't do this—bid by the piece.

NOTE—A printed list of all the prices realized at this sale will be sent for fifty cents (50c). Send coin or stamps with your bids so as to reserve a price list, or if you prefer, we will add the cost to your bill of items purchased for you at this sale. Keep posted on coin values as they are today, and order a price list in advance of the sale. After the sale they cost $1. Before, they are 50 cents.

COIN CHATTER

Unlimited Bids Discontinued. We have discontinued unlimited bids at our sales. I know that we have many customers who will not like to see this. They have trusted us with their commissions for years, and we have not abused their confidence. However, very often there is a rare piece offered, and it is certainly fair to let all collectors bid on it, and it will be allotted to the highest bidder. The old way was to give it to the first unlimited bidder, but this did not give the collector at a great distance a fair deal, because he does not get his catalogue as promptly. Therefore, always bid a figure limit, and we will reduce your bid as much as the second highest bid permits. We have thus saved considerable for collectors.

A Grand Collector. Chesley H. Husson of Maine is just such a person. Mr. Husson in looking over his purchases at my last sale, and he has bought at many of my sales, found two coins in one envelope and was charged with but one. Mr. Husson knows that our billing clerks work hard, and he wrote about the error, and remitted for both coins.

Who Needs Glasses? A good place to buy eye-glasses would be from G. L. Sandburg, Optometrist, of Springfield, Mass., because he is strictly honest. Our billing clerks made an undercharge of $10.00 on his last bill for auctoin lots, but Mr. Sandburg noted the error, and sent the ten dollars extra. Aren't coin collectors grand persons!

Very Well Satisfied. That is what Ervin E. Holm of South Dakota writes, after receiving his check three weeks after the sale, for the sale of his collection of commemorative half-dollars.

From An Ohio Attorney. We sold a fine collection for this gentleman recently. He writes: "I beg to acknowledge receipt of your check. I cannot help but express my appreciation of the very nice manner in which you handled my affairs and I am very much pleased with the result.

"It certainly is a great comfort to deal with a capable and reliable dealer like yourself." Thanks, Mr. Cleveland, for the flowers before I am dead.

Careful Attention to All Details. Recently a prominent New Englander received a check from me for a few thousand dollars for coins sold for him in an auction. Quote: "Your letter, your comprehensive report, and check covering payment for my material in the sale at hand, and for all of which I thank you. I consider the prices you obtained were, on an average, very good indeed, and your careful attention to all of the details working up to the sale were excellent, and the accuracy of your accounting is very gratifying. I assure you that it will be a pleasure to again do business with you whenever the occasion requires." Editor's note—The pleasure was not all his either, as we have never more enjoyed transactions than with so fine a character.

No! Just accidentally funny. Chas. Taylor of Philadelphia bought two Babylonian clay tablets from the Harris sale. Each had been carefully wrapped in some soft paper napkins by our shipping clerks, for protection. In remitting his check, Mr. Taylor writes, "Let me congratulate you on your sense of humor. The wrappers around the clay tablets have this legend, 'Made in North Dakota—LEHIGH BRIQUETS—they suit without soot.'"

On to Burlington! There will be a good coin collectors' convention in Burlington, Iowa, on Saturday and Sunday, April 26 and 27. Collectors who can attend will have a good time, and the exhibits will be fine.

Best Value for Fifty Cents. That is a printed price list of this sale. Order your copy when you send in your bids. No remittance now necessary until after the sale. The cost will be added to your bill.

A TRIP ABROAD

What was more fitting than to travel with a grand and august feeling on a Monday in August, which month was named after Roman emperor Augustus, to the noble and august city of Augsburg, founded by Augustus in 14 B.C.! An early morning train from Munich in a northwesterly direction brings us there in an hour. Augsburg is a mediaeval appearing plateau city of 175,000 about 1600 feet above sea level, in Bavaria. Many of the buildings are from the 15th to 17th centuries. There are beautiful churches, some of fine Gothic architecture, some with artistic metal work, some with the finest stained glass windows, some with fine altars by masters. Maximilianstrasse is the main street, lined with interesting buildings. There are numerous beautiful fountains, and the Rathaus is famous for its golden hall, one of the finest in Germany. We visit the Royal picture Gallery and museum.

Imagine my disappointment when I thought I would study the old crowns of Augsburg here, and other interesting old coins of this city, when the museum contained only eight coins, and a few medals of the city of Augsburg. My own collection at home has many more, and finer pieces. This is not the first museum display that is a disgrace. There are many in this country, not just coins, but in many subjects where the specimens are not worth carrying home. However, my visit there was well repaid, as we found something much more interesting, one of the largest collections of old dies used in striking the old Augsburg crowns, hundreds of them, different, some curved, some cylindrical, and examples of excellent die work of the period. Later, however, I found coins, and plenty of them. I was able to buy some to good advantage, as well as some rare Italian coins. One old gentleman had a valise full of Augsburg crowns, over 200 to 300 years old, all very fine or uncirculated.

There were over 400 of them. Had I not already bought about the limit allotted me with tourist marks, or had I known what I do now, I would have bought more tourist marks before entering Germany, and would have been able to thus advantageously consummate the trade at a cost to me of about 80 cents per coin, while as it was, I would have had to pay $1.60 each, and so turned down the deal. We were allowed to spend about $20 a day, for expenses, and as the actual cost was considerably less than this, for actual expenses, the balance could be spent for coins and other items. For larger deals, prospective sellers were often only too glad to accept our tourist marks in payment, as they were, of course, identical with any other money, except that they cost us about half as much in exchange at the border instead of within. In those days it paid to load up with your limit of tourist marks, and to spend them all.

The city was ruined by the Huns in the 5th century, by Charlemagne in the 8th century, by Welf in the 11th century. At the time of the Reformation it was one of Europe's most flourishing cities. Here the Augsburg Confession was decided in 1530, and the leading events of the Reformation are associated with the name of this city. This city was on the main trade route between northern and central Europe, and enjoyed much trade, until much of its prosperity was destroyed by the Thirty Years' War, the discovery of America, and of a new route to India, around the Cape of Good Hope. The city was besieged and taken by Gustavus Adolphus in 1632. Certainly a colorful and historical city to visit, and the time spent there was a delight. Americans who pay high rents might be interested in the fact that there are Catholic poor-houses where rents are as low as $1.50 per year! Modern costs, of necessity, are today being cut to the bone in Germany, and the public bows to Hitler and pays his war bills. This world has resources and plenty for all. What a pity that bad rulers, with jealous and personal desire, plunge their countries into war, when the money the war costs could be used for the comfort and security of the good people who live there.

For over 50 years its monthly visits have been a source of inspiration and a stimulus to all grades of collectors, from the beginner to the advanced student.
